Detailed Itinerary

Day 1st: Kathmandu

In morning we come to pick you up at the Kathmandu Airport, assist and transfer you to the hotel. Our representatives are there to provide you all the services and soon you'll be introduced to the bikes and all details about the tour. Go-Pro Cameras on helmets, riding gears, Royal Enfield Bikes, let's start riding around Kathmandu Valley.

With a population of close to 1 million people and an elevation of approximately 1,400 metres (4,600 ft), Kathmandu is the gateway to tourism in Nepal. It is also the hub of the country's economy and the most advanced infrastructure of any urban area in Nepal.

Day 2nd: Kathmandu (Local Visit)

In 2013, Kathmandu was ranked third among the top 10 travel destinations on the rise in the world by TripAdvisor, and ranked first in Asia. The city has a rich history, spanning nearly 2000 years. Religious and cultural festivities form a major part of the lives of people residing in Kathmandu. Most of Kathmandu's people follow Hinduism and many others follow Buddhism. There are people of other religious beliefs as well, giving Kathmandu a cosmopolitan culture.

On that day we'll proceed for the sightseeing tour of the town and its major tourist attractions: Pashupatinath Temple ; the world's tallest Lord Shiva Statue Kailashnath Mahadev ; Bhaktapur, capital of Nepal until the 15th century and listed as a World Heritage Site by UNESCO for its rich culture, temples, preserved palace courtyards and wood, metal and stone artworks. A tour in the famous neighborhood of Thamel, Kathmandu's primary "traveler's ghetto", is also planned.

Day 3rd: Kathmandu - Bandipur (144 km approx.)

We take the road in direction of the old time cultural atmosphere of Bandipur. For that reason Bandipur has increasingly been coming to the attention of tourism. Situated at an elevation of 1030m on a mountain saddle, the village offers an excellent view of the Himalayas.

Free stroll in the village to admire the old Newari architecture, to visit the Bindyabashini temple or the old library in the centre.

Day 4th: Bandipur - Pokhara (73 km approx.)

We take the road in direction of the second largest city of Nepal. With a population of 264,991 and an elevation of 1,740 m, the city is located approximately 200 km west of Kathmandu. Three out of the ten highest mountains in the world : Dhaulagiri, Annapurna I and Manaslu are within 30 miles of the city. In recent decades, Pokhara has become a major tourist destination in the world, it is even known as tourism capital of Nepal, in South Asia mainly for adventure tourism and the base for the famous Annapurna Circuit trek. Thus, a major contribution to the local economy comes from the tourism and hospitality industry.

There are numerous medieval temples and old newari houses in and around Pokhara valley. Many temples serve as combined places of worship for Hindus and Buddhists.

Day 5th: Pokhara

On the agenda, free sightseeing in and around the city: visit of some temples (Barahi temple, Bindhyabasini, Bhadrakali, etc), a boat tour on the Phewa lake and paragliding over Pokhara for a breathtaking view of the valley and Annapurna range.

Day 6th: Pokhara - Tatopani (104 km approx.)

Leaving this idyllic scenery, we start the day in direction of the lush valley of Tatopani, also famous for its hot springs. Besides the beauty of the landscapes, you will not remain indifferent to the charm of the picturesque villages of the area.

Day 7th: Tatopani - Marpha - Jomsom (50 km approx.)

Following the Kali Gandaki river, en route to our next destination. Also known as New Fort, Jomsom is located at an altitude of 2800m in Mustang District. Along the banks of the river there are rocks holy to the Hindus. The soaring peaks of Dhaulagiri and Nilgiri form a backdrop. Before reaching Jomsom, we'll make a stop to Marpha, a calm and pleasant village and apple capital of Nepal.

Day 8th: Jomsom - Kagbeni - Muktinath - Tatopani (100 km approx.)

From Jomsom, we are off for Muktinath, 3,710 meters altitude, a sacred place both for Hindus and Buddhists at the foot of the Thorong La mountain pass.

Muktinath temple is one of the most ancient Hindu temples of God Vishnu. The Tibetan Buddhist tradition states that Guru Rinpoche, known as Padmasambhava, the founder of Tibetan Buddhism, had meditated at Muktinath on his way to Tibet. This temple is also praised by many saints of Hindu tradition. Indeed you can notice the presence of both culture,

Buddhist and Hindu, in that area.

On the way, we'll make a stop at Kagbeni, gateway of upper Mustang. After lunch, back to Tatopani.

Day 9th: Tatopani - Pokhara (104 km approx.)

Free day in Pokhara to enjoy its majestic surroundings and visit its many places of interest or just have a rest near its crystal lake...

Day 10th: Pokhara - Chitwan (83 km approx.)

Ride to the first national park in Nepal and most popular tourist destinations of the country. Established in 1973 and covering an area of 932 km² the park granted the status of a World Heritage Site in 1984.

Since the end of the 19th century Chitwan used to be a favorite hunting ground for Nepal's ruling class. In 1950, Chitwan's forest and grasslands extended over more than 2,600 km² and was home to about 800 rhinos. The area was subsequently opened for settlement, and poaching of wildlife became rampant. By the end of the 1960s, 70% of Chitwan's jungles were cleared using DDT (a powerful insecticide), thousands of people had settled there, and only 95 rhinos remained. The dramatic decline of the rhino population and the extent of poaching prompted the government to institute a rhino reconnaissance patrol and guard posts all over Chitwan. The Chitwan National Park was gazetted in December 1970, with borders established in 1973, initially encompassing an area of 544 km². In 1977, the park was enlarged of 932 km² and in 1997 a bufferzone of 766.1 km² was added to the north and west of the Narayani-Rapti river system, and between the south-eastern boundary of the park and the international border to India.

Day 11th: Chitwan (Jungle Safari)

Let's go for an authentic safari on an elephant through the national park to discover its abundant wildlife closely. A total of 68 species of mammals (wild elephant), 56 species of herpeto fauna and 126 species of fish have been recorded in the park. The park is especially renowned for its protection of One Horned Rhinoceros, Royal Bengal Tiger and Gharial Crocodile. The park harbors not only the world's largest terrestrial mammal but also the world's smallest terrestrial mammal (pygmy shrew). A total of 544 species of birds has been recorded so far including 22 globally threatened species.
